BARNUM AND BAILEY CIRCUS COMING HERE NOVEMBER 3

"Hold your horses, the elephants are coming!"

The giddiest, gayest, grandest, glitteringest galaxy in the whole wide, wonderful world is trekking this way and will spread its acres of tents here on Friday, Nov. 3. If one doesn't infer from this that reference is made to the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, the publicity man will regard the case as hopeless.

The first advertising car is in this city today and more than a score of experts are spreading with tack and hammer and nails and brush the flaming lithographic tidings of the approach of the big traveling amusement institution. They are under the direction of Arthur E. Biggs, a well-known circus advertising specialist.

This is the innovation of novelty year, the greatest of all seasons. More railroad cars are required to transport the show, bigger tents are needed, more area is needed to accommodate the show than ever before. In fact, the circus has reached a point where it is the despair of many of the smaller railroads and taxes their facilities to the limit, for eighty-nine cars are needed to convey the gigantic canvas vagrant from town to town.

There's material enough in this year's circus to make a dozen circuses of the old days. A "big top" 650 feet long, nearly 1500 employees, three rings, four elevated platforms, acres of aerial apparatus, a 108-cage menagerie, 750 horses, forty elephants, a street parade three miles long!

The stereotyped "grand entree," with which the circuses were content to open their program for many years, has been permanently eliminated from the Barnum & Bailey tournament. This season the arene entertainment is inaugurated by the spectacular pageant, "Persia, or the Pageants of The Thousand and One Nights."

The subsequent three-hour arene performance, below and aloft, scores all comparisons and breaks all records of the past. Every one of the five hundred participants is a champion in equestrian, acrobatic, acrobatic or gymnastic effort.

Trained animals are in great variety. A feature is the only baby giraffe in captivity.

To Signal the Operator

WHEN you have been given the wrong number, or for any other reason you wish to get the operator's attention at once, it is useless to "jiggle" the receiver hook.

When the receiver hook is moved up and down rapidly, the operator does not answer because the signal light on the switchboard does not flash and attract her attention.

The right way is to move the receiver hook up and down slowly, which causes the little switchboard light to glow and brings a prompt response from the operator.

Patience and deliberate action always result in lessening the delay and are a great aid to the operator in getting the right number for you.

Great Patterson Shows Bring Merriment to Chickasha and Will Attract Great Crowds

The mammoth carnival aggregation known as the Great Patterson Shows arrived in Chickasha at midnight last night and bright and early this morning the personnel of the show was astir getting located. It was shortly after 6 o'clock when Mayor Coffman, who is on the committee of the Commercial and Farm Bureau, was aroused by an officer of the company and came down town at once to indicate the sites on which the various attractions will be located throughout the week.

Wagon after wagon passed up Chickasha avenue to Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets with their treasures of pleasure givers and they had Curley Reynolds guessing in his effort to pick out the squeezers from the brightly painted exteriors of the big vans.

To convey the eighteen different attractions, the employees of the big show twenty-seven cars were required.

J. W. Kayser calls especial attention to the Monkey Speedway which he says is one of the best attractions. Others who have seen the show at Oklahoma City or in some metropolis declare that all the attractions are equally good.

Ticket Takers Wanted.

Eighteen ticket takers are wanted for the big shows by the committee which is representing the Commercial and Farm Bureau in this transaction. Of these only five have so far been appointed by J. W. Kayser, who is charged with this end of the game. "I was rather disappointed on Saturday at receiving but five applications and these applicants were all engaged. We need thirteen more and we want them to report so as to be ready for duty by 7 o'clock tonight. Their duties will consist of taking tickets at the doors of the attractions from 2 till 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 10. Perhaps on Friday and Saturday nights they will be obliged to remain for a while longer."

Ben Morgan believes that there will be a record breaking crowd toward the middle and end of the week should the weather clear up and the roads get into good condition. The Great Patterson shows are greater and better than ever. The Patterson shows long have been recognized as one of the biggest carnival companies in the country, and this year they have jumped far ahead in the quality and variety of attractions offered.

The company is up-to-date, as is evidenced by a mechanical reproduction of the Battle of Verdun, until the present drive of the allies, the greatest struggle in history. Then, there is The Whip, the latest carnival device made. There are others, each one of which is unusually good.

The animal show is the feature attraction. There are two rings and a wild animal arena, and, aside from the trafficked elephants, bears, lions and ponies, there are clowns and acrobats just as in a regular circus. Leotia is a tabloid musical comedy. There is a chorus of ten, and principals and comedians.

The autodrome is another interesting attraction. Lady drivers are featured, and besides the race on a perpendicular wall, there is trick and fancy driving on a 75 degree incline.

The Annex is the side show of the company. There are a number of new human curiosities, each one of which is bound to attract much attention. Jungland is another interesting side show, in which the small animals of the jungles are featured.

King Kola's Hippodrome is a reproduction of a Roman stadium, in which feats of skill, strength and bravery are shown.

The Battle of Verdun is an unusually interesting show. It is a panorama of the great battle, chiefly from the German side. It was made by Captain Palla, an Austro-Hungarian, who returned this spring from the front. It shows the Teutonic troops moving, the 42-centimeter guns, the battles on the various hills and the night firing.

The Panama canal is an other interesting attraction. It is a mechanical reproduction of the "big ditch," built on a large scale. It shows miniature boats going from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the different locks and all the landscapes on both sides. George Teasdale, who was an assistant clerk to Colonel George Goethals, lectures

Have a Clear Complexion and Clean Skin
There is one sure, safe way to avoid a blotchy, pimply skin. A good or bad complexion comes from within. If you want a clear complexion, a clean skin—rosy cheeks and good health, your blood must be pure and the poisonous matter must be carried off.

The Tangle and The Squeeze are mechanical fun shows. They resemble the Katzenjammer Kesties of old, but are entirely different.

The Days of '49 is a reproduction of frontier days and features Calamity Jane's Dance Hall.

The Whip is the newest thing in carnival fun devices. It has been exceptionally popular wherever shown.

DEMONSTRATION OF STEEL RANGE ATTRACTS CROWD

Big crowds have been attending the demonstration of the South Bend Malleable Steel Range at the Buie and Wallace Hardware Store for the past five days. Mr. Grant Tucker, the demonstrator, says that he has had more people at the demonstration than he expected and that the ladies all seemed greatly interested in his talk. Hot biscuits and coffee have been served every day and will be a part of the program tomorrow which is the last day. Mr. Tucker said that they have sold several ranges and that he was satisfied that the success of the demonstration to a great extent was due to the advertising that Buie and Wallace had placed in the Express announcing the demonstration. The demonstrations are free and everyone is invited.

CALLAHAN HAS IMPROVED PIRATES

(By Hamilton, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Oct. 16.—Jimmy Callahan, who made way for Clarence Rowland when Charley Comiskey decided Callahan was not the man to manage the White Sox into an American league pennant, has done something to the Pirates which may elevate the Pittsburgh club to a point where it again will become a pennant contender. Jimmy has tinkered here and there, dropped players, changed the positions of others, and has put a little more all around fight into nearly every corner of the squad.

Fred Clarke bequeathed Callahan several good ball players, among them being, of course, Hans Wagner. Callahan also found Max Carey, Al Mamaux, Bill Hinchman, Douglas Baird, Doc Johnston, Cooper, Bob Harmon, Dan Costello, Jimmy Vois, Gibson and Murphy. Of these only a few remain and their places are being filled by youngsters who are learning to play the Callahan brand of baseball.

Callahan always has been a marvel at developing pitchers. Glance over the record he made with the White Sox. He left behind him what once was a most wonderful collection of slab artists, among them being Joe Benz, Rob Russell, Jim Scott, and Eddie Cicotte.

Urban Faber also had his major league baptism under Callahan tutelage. Consequently, one would expect Callahan's pitchers to be the brightest spot in the new Pirates, and the expectation is well founded. Callahan already has begun to build up a pitching staff which in time should give an excellent account of itself.

Grimes, a youngster from the south, is one of the most promising. Already he has won his spurs in fast company and will be given all the opportunity in the world next spring. There is no use to discuss Al Mamaux. He has been a star for several years. Evans also appears to be a comer, and two others who spent their first year in the majors this season are Miller and Jacobs.

Warner and Baird are the candidates for third base and both are fine performers. Jimmy Smith, shortstop, is a miraculous fielder, but woefully weak as a hitter. Carson Bigbee, a real hitter, but an outfielder by rights, has done such good work at second base that he may be retained in that position. There is little chance that Doc Johnston and Hans Wagner will not split the first basing duties between them next season.

Bill Hinchman may be out of a big league job next year, but Max Carey and Farmer are two excellent fly chasers, and one more man would round out a fairly efficient outfield. Callahan finished fifth this year, in the same place where Fred Clarke finished. There are reasons to believe he will do better in 1917.
